

CCH g

John C. Lowell, Director of Athletics at Church College of Hawaii, has decided to give up his coaching duties for the powerful Outrigger Canoe Club volleyball team.

The reason is obvious: Lowell will assume the job of leading CCH to the National Collegiate championship next year in Knoxville, Tenn.

"I've formally resigned as Outrigger coach — what could I do when President Owen J. Cook said the school would compete in Knoxville and asked me to take over," said Lowell.