

OCC, Nick's advance

EL PASO, Texas — Outrigger Canoe Club's men and the Nick's Fishmarket women from Hawaii advanced to the third round of the U.S. Volleyball Association National Championships last night.

The Outrigger men's masters team and F.W. Millwork, also known as the Honolulu Women Masters, are also still alive in championship bracket competition. The Haili Girls, and Chuck's Cellar teams from Hawaii were eliminated from play yesterday.

Haili lost to Utah State — coached by Mary Jo Pepler, 15-8, 15-8, last night, dropping its record to 3-4 and eliminating the Big Islanders.

The Outrigger men, coached by University of Hawaii's Dave Shoji, meet defending champion Chuck's Steak House of Los Angeles today. OCC, the Hawaii USVBA men's champion, is 6-0 in the tournament.

Nick's, comprised mostly by UH Wahines, meets Nick's of California today. Seeded fifth, Allen Kang's Honoluluans upset the third-seeded Anaheim Volleyball Club earlier in the week, 13-7, 15-11.

The OCC masters meet defending masters champ Sir Del Rae of Los Angeles. F.W. Millwork will play Nick's of Beverly Hills.
