

Pac-Rim tryouts

A organizational meeting and tryouts for the boys team that will represent Honolulu in next month's Pacific-Rim International Volleyball Tournament next month at Hilo will be held tomorrow night.

The meeting-tryout will begin 7:30 p.m. at Nuuanu YMCA. Any boy born in 1958 or later is eligible for the 20-and-under squad. The girls team has already been set.

The Pac-Rim tournament will begin Aug. 14, with teams from Hawaii, the Mainland, Australia, New Zealand and Japan entered. The Australian team will also play in exhibition games Aug. 11 and 12 at McKinley gym.

Paddle board switch

The Outrigger Canoe Club has announced four changes in its Diamond Head Paddle Board race.

The traditional Christmas Day date has been switched to December 30 and two classes in the 10,000 meter race, the unlimited and stock-board, have been deleted.

Beginning this year there will be only a single board class with only two specifications: a maximum overall length length of 12 feet and no rudder. A women's division will also be adopted.
