

Semi-Pro volleyball doubleheader tonight

Both the Budweiser Eagles and the Aloha Airlines Flyers will try to maintain a share of the lead when the Hawaii Semi-Pro Volleyball League continues at the Kawaiahao Gym tonight at 7 p.m.

Budweiser and Aloha Airlines, both victims of the surging McDonald's Golden Arches last week, are 5-2 on the year.

The Eagles will face the Pepsi Cola Serves, 2-5, in the first game while the Flyers will meet the last-place Datsun Little Hustlers, 1-6, in the night-cap.

The Flyers will be led by Outrigger player and UH volleyball coach Dave Shoji and Central YMCA standout Eddie Kalima.

Pacing the Eagles will be Jim Iams and George Dudoit.

Tickets, available at the gate, will be $1 for adults and $.50 for children.