

Volleyball Tourney Boasts Tough Field

Outrigger Canoe Club meets the University of Hawaii men's team tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the opener of the Budweiser Light International Invitational tournament at UH's Klum Gym. Southern California meets Waseda of Japan at 4 p.m. in another game tomorrow.

The three-day round-robin affair continues Monday and Wednesday with games at 6 and 8 p.m. Wednesday's final match between USC and UH will be counted as the teams' California Intercollegiate Volleyball Association opener. Admission is $2 for the first two days and $2.50 Wednesday.

Pre-tourney favorite OCC will start some awesome talent. Leading the veterans is 40-year-old Jon Stanley, former Punahou and Pepperdine University standouts Mark and Scott Rigg, All-Americans Peter Ehrman and John Andorf and former San Diego State player Marc Haine. And, too, there's Randy Shaw, Charley Jenkins, Ralph Smith and Mike Cote who helped OCC to the men's open USVBA championships at the Haile Invitational in Hilo and nearly to the final four at the nationals.
